CHOOSE FREEDOM!

Bruce Eberle

Written expressly for high school and college students, Choose Freedom! is an antidote to the woke indoctrination that is pervasive in America's education system—from grade school to grad school.

This “rescue book” is the ideal book for parents and grandparents to give to their children. It not only explains why there is a bright line from the thinking of America's Founders to today's conservative movement, but also exposes the rotten, anti-freedom lineage of today's progressive/liberal movement.

Choose Freedom! reminds readers of the challenges facing the nation, the weaknesses of the left, and warns of the panic and fear of those on the left who correctly surmise that their message only succeeds when the American people hear only their side of the story.

It is also a book of optimism. Choose Freedom! encourages young men and women to engage in the conservative movement, to grow in understanding of its history and its values, and to press forward. Choose Freedom! tells young Americans how to persuade others to join the conservative cause, how to spread the message of conservatism on their college campus, and why they should be optimistic that the current threat from the left will be repelled in this generation.

Using understandable language, author Bruce Eberle explains the core reason that conservatives and America's Founders stand in total opposition to every conclusion of the progressive movement, from its founding in the 1890s until today.

With more than 400 endnotes, and endorsements from a broad number of national conservative leaders, Choose Freedom! provides a reliable guidebook for young conservatives, as well as a refresher for all conservatives.

Author Bio

Since he first became a member of Young Americans for Freedom, Bruce Eberle has been passionate about expanding and growing the ranks of the conservative movement. Bruce was first chapter and then state chairman of Missouri Young Americans for Freedom. He continued his involvement in Texas, serving on the state board of Texas YAF, and a member of the national Board of Directors of Young Americans for Freedom. He is a graduate of what is today Missouri S&T and an army veteran.

Following his time in the military, he moved to Virginia and eventually founded the Eberle Communications Group, an organization that has raised more than one and a half billion dollars for conservative candidates, PACs, organizations and other worthy causes.

Today, he serves on the Board of Governors of the Ronald Reagan Ranch, as a Trustee of Youth for Tomorrow New Life Foundation (a home for at-risk boys and girls), a Regent at Wisconsin Lutheran College, and is a founding Director of Time of Grace Ministry. Along with his wife Kathi, Bruce has two children and four grandchildren.

WE WIN, THEY LOSE

Matthew Kroenig, Dan Negrea

In 1977, then presidential candidate Ronald Reagan was discussing foreign affairs when he said, “My idea of American policy toward the Soviet Union is simple, and some would say simplistic. It is this: We win, and they lose.” Three years later, Reagan was elected president; by the time he left office, the United States had won the First Cold War.

Today, a New Cold War has started, this time with the People’s Republic of China (PRC). While Beijing challenged the United States for many years, Washington only awoke to this reality in 2017 when President Donald J. Trump declared “great power competition” with China and Russia as the greatest threat facing the nation. We are in the early days of the New Cold War, and Washington is still struggling to define a clear China strategy.

Inspired by Trump and Reagan, this book proposes a straightforward goal for the struggle with China: we win, and they lose. Brilliant and engagingly written, this book provides a conservative foreign policy strategy—A Trump-Reagan fusion—for winning the New Cold War with China. We Win, They Lose explains why a conservative worldview is best suited for the coming confrontation with China and provides a comprehensive strategy for tackling every major foreign policy issue facing the United States, including: defense, trade, and values; Russia, Iran, and North Korea; allies and institutions; border security and immigration; energy and the environment, and more.

With this strategy in hand, the GOP and the United States can spring to action. It is time to win the New Cold War.

He was a member of the Secretary of State’s Policy Planning office between 2018 and 2019, where he was responsible for the economic portfolio. For three decades before that, he held leadership positions in Wall Street firms. He defected from Communist Romania where he had been an official in the Ministry of Finance and was involved in negotiating government loans with the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. He holds an MBA from Cornell University and an MA from the School of International Economic Relations in Bucharest, Romania.

CIVIC EDUCATION CRISIS

Jeffrey Sikkenga, David Davenport

The Civic Education Crisis: How We Got Here, What We Must Do is a call to action, an effort to save our republic through better civic education.

America faces a crisis in civic education that imperils the long-term health of the country. Too many Americans—especially young people—do not have the knowledge of history and principles necessary to sustain the republic. In what has become a vicious cycle, young people are not learning about their country—its history and how it works—and they grow up disengaged and distrustful. Too many young people do not understand the principles of self-government on which America was founded. And they do not understand America’s history as the story of the struggle to live up to those principles of freedom articulated in documents like the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

Instead, too many believe that America’s story is essentially one of oppression, not freedom—injustice, not hope. In the first half of the book, authors Jeff Sikkenga and David Davenport diagnose the problem while proposing solutions in the second half. Truly, America faces a civics crisis and action is needed now to reverse the trend.
